

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
2024 EXTRAORDINARY GENERAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS (THE "MEETING")

Q. How do I disclose my Beneficial Owner “Identity Information” if I hold GDRs in a custody or brokerage account?

When you instruct your custodian bank or broker to vote your GDRs, you will need to authorize the custodian bank or broker to disclose your Beneficial Owner “Identity Information” to the Depositary and the Company. The custodian bank or broker in turn will provide the information to the Depositary which will forward the information to the Company. In the absence of disclosure of your Beneficial Owner Information, your voting instructions will be disregarded.

Q: Can I attend and vote at the Meeting?

No, holders and beneficial owners of GDRs cannot attend and vote at the Meeting. The books of the Depositary will be closed to GDR cancellations from the GDR Record Date through and including the Meeting date. As a result, from the GDR Record Date through and including the Meeting date, you will not be able to present your GDRs for cancellation and become a holder of JSC National Atomic Company Kazatomprom shares.